Response to Amendment

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

Page 11, Line 12, "The unit cell 1 with part of the wall 6". Please indicate in appropriate drawing(s) where are the numerals "1" and "6".

Page 11, line 16, "In operation, ink 11 passes through the ink inlet passage 314". Please indicate where are the numerals "11" and "314".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recitation of: "each of the liquid passages is formed by a hole extending from the respective chamber, through the drive circuitry and into the monolithic wafer, and a supply passage extending from the liquid supply side partially through the monolithic wafer such that a fluid connection is established with the hole, the supply passage and the chamber being wider than the hole" is unclear. Because:

(1) The subject matter of "a hole" is not clearly defined in the drawing(s).

(2) The subject matter of "liquid passage" is not clearly indicated in the drawing(s). Such liquid passages are extended from each of the chambers respectively (see claim 1, line 10). Examiner supposes such liquid passages are the ones shown in fig. 7, where a hollow arrow marked with "D" is located. If Examiner is right, then the question is: where is the chamber for such liquid passages to extend? To answer this question, Examiner thinks the chamber looks like "31" in fig. 7. However, 31 is the inlet. Is inlet and chamber overlap or they are the same? Chamber is only shown in fig. 1 as numeral "7". Please explain.

(3) Figs. 2-7 has numerals 31 and 32. While numeral 31 is designated as "inlet" (see page 12, line 9), and numeral 32 is designated as "passages" (see page 11, line 28). The "supply passage" in claim 1 is passage 32 Examiner believes.

(4) There is a sizes comparison in the quoted recitation above. The sizes comparison is: "the supply passage and the chamber being wider than the hole". From this sentence, "the supply passage" is numeral "32". Examiner's question is: how the size of this supply passage and the size of the chamber are to compare with the size of the hole, since the "hole" and its size are not clearly indicated in drawing(s) such that a visual comparison can be conducted. It is better to have a drawing, in which, the "supply passage", "liquid passage" and "the hole" are all present such that the sizes comparison can be easily visualized. Please clarify.

Art Unit: 2861

Claims 2-5, 7 and 8 depend on a rejected base claim and are also rejected.

4. Claims 1-5, 7 and 8 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

6. After reviewing the only independent claim, claim 1, which has been amended, a 112 second paragraph rejection has been set up in this office action.
